Question:

Why is pure beer fast becoming the national food-drink and is supplanting, in degree, the use of strong drink and of tea and coffee?

Answer:

Simply for the reason that pure beer stimulates and strengthens, while tea and coffee merely stimulate, leaving nothing in payment for the tax upon energy.

WANTS A WARRANT FOR MOSES WOLF

Ellenville Horse Deal With Some Novel Frills, Including a Request to Mandamus a Justice of the Peace.

An Ellenville horse deal put through by Moses Wolf, in which the purchaser claimed afterwards that the horse was not as represented and wanted his money back, resulted in application being made to Judge Hasbrouck at the regular monthly special term of the supreme court at the court house Saturday for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel Justice of the Peace Daniel Fitzgerald of Ellenville to issue a warrant for Mr. Wolf's arrest. Joseph Haberman of New York city appeared for David Berowich and the application, and District Attorney Cunningham appeared for Judge Fitzgerald and opposed.

The horse was bought by Berowich, who lives in Ellenville, for $115. Judge Wolf, who made the sale, guaranteed the horse to be safe, sound and gentle. (That is the guarantee that always goes with a horse—or should go with it.) When Mr. Berowich took the horse home he says he found the horse was defective in several particulars, and that when he notified Judge Wolf, the latter agreed to furnish another horse if the trotter he had just sold was not satisfactory. Mr. Berowich claims that when the horse was brought to the city it was found to be a "bad" horse.

Mr. Berowich applied to Judge Fitzgerald for a warrant for the arrest of Judge Wolf. He says that Judge Fitzgerald declined to issue a warrant on the ground that Judge Wolf was a former justice of the town. Application to the police justice for a warrant was also denied and Mr. Berowich says that the Ellenville lawyers declined to draw the papers.

District Attorney Cunningham said that he had been asked about the case and after examining the papers had said that the case was one which would be dismissed if it ever reached trial. Mr. Berowich's talk with him was composed largely of references to a nephew living in New York "who knew what the law was." Mr. Cunningham called attention to the papers on which the application was based, and the frequent references to "police magistrates," which indicated, he said, a total lack of knowledge on the part of the attorney who drew them to criminal procedure outside of New York city.

In reference to Justice Fitzgerald's action, Mr. Cunningham said that the village law and the charter of the village of Ellenville gave the police justice exclusive jurisdiction in criminal matters arising in the village. Although Justice Fitzgerald was a resident of Ellenville, his jurisdiction extended only over civil proceedings, or in criminal proceedings in the town outside of the village. Furthermore, the papers presented to Justice Fitzgerald were in such faulty condition that the justice would make himself liable to prosecution by issuing a warrant for anybody's arrest upon them.

Judge Hasbrouck said the point in regard to the police justice's jurisdiction seemed sound to him, and it seemed to him as if the police justice was the proper person to whom the application for a warrant should be made.

Mr. Cunningham replied that the police justice was Mr. Jollie. Judge Hasbrouck said he would deny the application for a writ against Justice Fitzgerald.

"You apply to Justice Jollie," he advised Mr. Haberman.

NATURE, SUAVITY AND SPELLING

Three Things That Judge Clearwater Tells Teachers and Pupils Should Receive More Attention in the Public Schools.

The May Day observance at the New Paltz Normal School were attended by the teachers of the sixty-five schools of the Second Ulster district, and the three hundred scholars of the normal school. Commissioner John U. Gillette presided, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Judge Clearwater delivered an address. He said that he did not come to New Paltz with the purpose which actuated many men who addressed gatherings of teachers. In his opinion the teacher occupied one of the most important positions in American social life. Fifty years ago it was the clergyman who dominated society, and who left the strongest impress upon it. Today, notwithstanding all that was said about the influence of newspapers, the teacher was paramount in that it was at the impressionable period that the teacher came in contact with the boys and girls who were to be the potent factors of the world in their generation. The best that he had come from Greece. We had improved but little upon the art, the architecture and the literature of the Greeks. Practically our advance was limited to science and the mechanic arts which meant that most of those factory which tended to the cultivation of ideals were Hellenic. There had been a time when the measure of a teacher's success and usefulness was gauged by the amount of learning he managed to instill into the mind of a pupil. That was the time of the school men and of their successors to a comparatively recent period. The pendulum now was swinging the other way, and we were returning to the standard of the Greeks, which was how much a man had learned, but how much he knew.

The judge said there was one criticism upon which he would venture: it was that the school children of today were more lacking in gracefulness and in manners than the school children of forty years ago. It was not quite fair to say that this was altogether the fault of the teachers. Doubtless to a large extent it was due to the absence of proper training at home, and yet a teacher no longer an enormous influence in the moulding of youthful habits and in the habits of life, urbanity, grace, cleanliness, deference and consideration were elements of no slight consequence.

There was a matter which every teacher could interest pupils, a phase of education too much neglected, and that was an interest in natural things, in birds, in bird songs, in bees, in animals, in plants, in flowers. "For instance," said the judge, "suppose that every teacher and every teacher in embryo who is here this afternoon should at once begin to call the attention of his or her pupils to the migration of song birds which is taking place this month, and ask them to investigate the brighter color the birds attain as they fly, or to take the quality of melody as the tone of bird song, which of our birds stand at the head of the list of songsters. Do birds of the same family always have the same song; how does the bee deposit the pollen in the hive and what is then done with it; from what flower does the bee secure his first supply of honey in the spring; how do little fishes protect themselves from the big fishes; where does the tree-toad pass the winter; how many shades of color are there to the hepatica; when do blood root, the anemone, the hepatica and the maiden-pair fern make their start towards the season's growth; when does the redness in the east mean wind, and how does it differ from the redness which indicates rain; at what time of the day do the big storms usually begin; do animals profit by experience; have birds that suggest upon a great variety of foods a better chance of surviving than birds of a neutral color?"

From this the judge branched off upon his favorite subject of agriculture, speaking of the soils of Ulster county, the difference between the clay, the loam and the gravel deposits; their fertility and adaptability to different crops. He spoke of the pupil in one of the Gardner schools who took the prize for the best ear of flint corn raised in the county and raised in the state of New York, and strongly urged that in addition to the usual branches taught in the public schools there be added a course of practical instruction in what might be called nature study. This he said would give to school children a balance and a knowledge and ability to reason, educate the faculty of observation and the critical faculty of discrimination in a manner which would be of utmost advantage for a lifetime. The judge hinted that for the ordinary pupil a knowledge of mathematics which would enable a scholar to solve a problem in quadratics furnished enough mathematical education. He insisted upon an ability to write English as important as the ability to spell it.

The address was listened to with the closest attention by the large audience, and mostly heartily applauded. Many of the teachers took notes while the judge was speaking, and this coming to his attention he spoke more deliberately than he usually does. Altogether the session was a most enjoyable one.

Alderman Mitchell's Medal.

Alderman M. Joseph Mitchell is exhibiting to his friends a fine bronze medal given by the state of New Jersey to all natives of that state who served in the Spanish-American war. The medal is much admired and is a fitting tribute to Mr. Mitchell for his services in the army and navy. It is suitably inscribed and altogether a fine example of the silversmith's art.

Chance For Mighty Swat.

It is a waste to make even the least impression on the billions of flies that infest the country. There's a better way. One can annihilate trillions of flies with one swat if one goes at it right. If there is a female fly enjoying the spring in your kitchen or attic or basement she is due to hatch out six or more hatches of eggs, over 100 eggs at a time, if she lives, and all of her youngsters are the most prolific creatures on the map. A fly expert has figured it out that from a single female fly trillions of the dreaded typhoid flies may claim descent in one season, provided, of course, that all the young flies grow up.

By swatting Mrs. Fly now you save yourself the trouble of killing her descendants this summer.

The May "White Sales"

May is set aside by many stores as the month for their spring white sales.

The merchandise offered in these events is of a kind and character that appeals to every woman.

The opportunity these sales offer to replenish her wardrobe is one she does not want to overlook.

By reading the advertisements in The Freeman, wise women keep posted on what the different stores are doing.

It saves time and very often money to "shop around" through the newspapers before making the tour of the stores themselves.

Most stomachs need a rest after the heavy work of the usual winter diet.

What is needed is easily digested food—food that furnishes plenty of nourishment, but with least tax upon the digestive organs.

Grape-Nuts

is that kind of food!

Made of prime whole wheat and barley, it contains all the rich nutrition of these food grains, and by long baking is partially predigested. It comes crisp, delicious and ready to eat when the package is opened.

Grape-Nuts digests usually in about one hour (Bread, for instance, requires about 3½ hours).

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 4, 1914.

The press of the country has printed so many free advertisements of the wonderful ability of William J. Burns as a detective that it is a shock to find him admitting under oath that after working two or three months he has been unable to discover any new evidence in the Frank case. He has done nothing but inform Frank that on a new trial he can get clear on the same evidence in pursuance of which he was convicted. Those of us who read detective stories have unconsciously imbibed the idea that there is something superhuman about these sleuths. As a matter of fact they are generally inferior to the average intelligent citizen in reasoning powers. The latter could do much more than the professionals if he were willing to engage in that sort of work.

The Republican members of the Legislature which meets at Albany in special session tonight find themselves in a peculiar situation. The Democrats, who control the Senate, refuse to make appropriations for the needs of the State unless the bill carries appropriations to maintain Tammany heelers in the enjoyment of useless sinecures. The Republican Assembly was elected for the purpose of cutting out graft and waste. As honest men, they should keep their pledges, but no one is morally bound to perform impossibilities. It is no benefit to the people to have a legislative deadlock of inordinate length, since it is bound to cost more money than the Tammany leeches would get if allowed to remain on the payrolls. It is distasteful to good men to compromise with evil, but it is being done out of necessity every day. It seems to us that all the Republicans can do is to agree to a compromise with as little evil in it as possible. After all, the taxpayers who voted a Tammany Senate into office are to blame, and they deserve what they are getting.

The various foreign missionary societies in this country are now striking their yearly balances and appears that they have a

As this is reported by the New York Times to be "disturbed financial conditions and criticisms of the board by people who had heretofore been its friends." This means that the earnest Christians who have contributed so many millions of dollars in the past are not satisfied that they are getting their money's worth. They think it a better investment to spend money for Christian work in our own country. The recent adoption of Confucianism as the state religion of China after so many centuries of efforts to introduce Christianity was very discouraging. Practically all Mexicans, moreover, are Christians, and contribute toward sending missionaries to other countries, and yet, judging from their conduct, religion is an empty form for them, and their souls will doubtless be absent from the great concourse in heaven. It is folly to induce people to make merely nominal professions of religion, and it is to be feared that that is all that is accomplished in barbarous countries.

"CLEANING-UP" DAYS.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

"Go, make thy garden fair as thou canst,
Thou workest never alone;
Perchance he whose plot is next to thine
Will see it and mend his own."

And that is the spirit that is pushing the "clean-up" the "paint-up" movement along, house to house, and neighbor to neighbor, until in time the whole city—yes, and every city and hamlet in the United States—will be so radiantly clean little spots of freshness.

Because as one little perked-up stretch, one little "garden fair," one little street all wholesome and clean, throw out their signals of pride, the next in line will soon feel ashamed to look forlorn and neglected, and will come some more. And every waste place turned into a miniature garden, every rubbish-heap or unsightly fence removed, every neighborhood lending its aid, means another step toward the "city beautiful."

Beautifully kept parks, symmetrically planned streets and houses, gracious shade trees, out-reaching boulevards—all these loom big and pretentious and very promising indeed; but for the vital touches that make a city "blossom as a rose" we always must turn to the homes.

Knowledge is the antidote to fear.—Emerson.

Cities, for all their bigness, are very much like houses. They may be clean, well laid out and all, but when the park systems are in motion, the trees growing and beautiful and the public buildings as stately and fine as may be, they need the finishing touches to give them the home-like look. And these touches come by way of climbing, trailing vines, of window-boxes with their radiant bloom and of the unexpected bit of green.

And somehow those touches are most eloquent when found, as often they are, in the side streets, the back streets and the obscure little spots that have no real beauty of their own except as it is worked out through the loving, patient hand of care. For the most modest cottage in the humblest of byways sometimes takes the lead over all in lending its aid in making a beautiful environment. Just a plain little house, beautifully clean, a patch of ground a-bloom, a gracious example of personal and civic pride—what more could the most aspiring citizen do?

But there is another point in which cities and homes are quite alike—they must be mindful of comfort as well as of cleanliness and beauty. And, to the mind of many, no city can be really comfortable and inviting and a delight in winter and summer, unless it is dotted with small parks, playgrounds that fairly sing a welcome to little folk to come out and romp and be happy under the sheltering trees.

And a city that wants the men and women and small folk who go to make up the big civic family to grow proud of it, to sing its praises help make it shine in the sisterhood of cities must be mindful of their comfort, their needs and their interests. For loyalty has a way of inspiring loyalty, and the "clean-up" spirit is easily whispered from house to house when the city does all that it can.

And when paint and scrubbing brushes and vines and posies have transformed drab little houses into things of beauty, then the tired men and women have earned a right to turn aside for a bit of rest out in the spaces glorified by the city. And as to the little folk—well, when the happy day comes that they have playgrounds a-plenty they will grow so sweet and strong and in love with life that they will let fly their little "clean-up" flags without any coaxing. Because when little bodies are strong as they ought to be, little eyes attune to beauty and little hearts gladsome and free and happy, it is instinctive to want the home-setting and clear and pure as the playgrounds that have them their freshness.

FRANCIS SHAFNER

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATE.

The lodges of the independent order of Odd Fellows and of the Bekahs of the city celebrated the 9th anniversary of Odd Fellowship by attending service at the Rondout Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening when the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles G. Ellis, delivered a very interesting address on the principles of the order, taking as his topic, "A True Friend." The pulpit of the church was handsomely decorated with the national colors and as the lodges marched in and took seats that had been reserved for them in the center of the auditorium it made an impressive sight. During the service Miss Esther Canfield sang feelingly "All Through the Night."

Dr. Ellis said that it was hardly necessary for him to say that he welcomed those present and he congratulated the order upon its long and honorable existence and for the spirit of brotherhood inculcated by its teachings and for its practical benevolent and charity exemplified upon countless occasions. From the earliest dawn of history men had sought friendship, for God had implanted in the heart of man the need of friends. The greatest story of friendship was the friendship of Jonathan, the king's son, and David, the shepherd's son. This was the ideal friendship and upon it the order had been founded. It has well been called the Friendly Order, for its foundations were laid in friendship. Dr. Ellis sketched briefly the origin of the order and told of the organization of the first lodge in the new world which was organized in Baltimore and was fittingly called Washington Lodge, and the second lodge to be instituted was Franklin Lodge. The members of the lodge were bound together in ties of friendship, and true friendship was founded upon worth and character. A man to join the order was tested before he was admitted. Friendship as exemplified by the order meant the bringing of good into the lives of its members trying to inculcate the high ideals of a true Christian and to make life worth living on earth and to bring men nearer to the realization of God and his friendship and love of man.

The services were brought to a close with the singing of "Nearer my God to Thee" and the benediction of the pastor.

A slight idea of the extent and influence of the order was shown by the large attendance of its members, which numbers some of the most prominent professional and business men in the city.

FLUORINE A RABID GAS.

Nothing Can Resist the Power of This Chemical Fury.

The fury of the chemical world is the element fluorine, although, strangely enough, it exists peacefully in company with calcium in fluorapatite and also in a few other compounds.

Although this element was known and named a good while ago, it long resisted the efforts of chemists to isolate it, for the instant the compound containing it was torn apart the free fluorine attacked and combined with whatever substance composed the vessel containing it. It was finally isolated by the great French chemist Moissan.

Fluorine is a rabid gas that nothing can resist. It combines with all metals, explosively with some, or if they are already combined with some other nonmetallic element it mercilessly tears them away from it and takes them to itself.

In uniting with sodium, potassium, calcium, magnesium and aluminum the metals become heated, even to redness, by the fervor of its embrace. Iron filings slightly warm burst into brilliant scintillations when exposed to it. Manganese does the same. Even the noble metals, which at melting heat proudly resist the fascinations of oxygen, succumb to this chemical siren at moderate temperatures.

Glass is devoured at once and water ceases to be water by contact with this gas, which, combined with its hydrogen, at the same moment forms the acrid, glass dissolving hydrofluoric acid and liberates ozone.

Even hydrofluoric acid eats into and destroys every known substance except platinum and lead.—Exchange.

BURNING WATER.

Coal Wet Gives a Much Larger Amount of Heat Than When Dry.

Dry coal does not produce as much heat as coal that is considerably damp. It is, of course, a fact that a greater heat makes the fuel more valuable, and it is essential to know how to secure the most from ordinary fuel.

Coal that is to be burned in a furnace, a stove or a grate for immediate heat will produce nearly one-fourth more heat when wet than when dry. Coal that is to be placed in a stove or furnace to be closed up so as to produce a long continued, moderate heat will produce a little more than one-third more heat if there is plenty of moisture than can be secured if the coal is real dry.

Large lumps of coal can be soaked in a pail of water for a half hour, and the heat will be increased nearly one-half. This is done in cases where the lumps are used in stoves tightly closed, such as those known as air tight furnaces.

Several pails of water thrown over a ton of coal will increase its value greatly to the consumer. Coal will burn briskly in wet and almost airless mines, and it is said the heat is intense. When there is a fire and the coal pile burns it is difficult to drown that portion of the fire with water. We might as well secure a little of the heat stored in burning water as to permit it all to go unused.—Philadelphia North American.

ALL the cotton worms in the world are now in the hands of the Judge Banks of New York.

By all, how is the cotton worm now? "An old Egyptian shiek." "Finished." "There is none. How can there be cotton worms now? It is more than our life is worth. If we do not pick the cotton worms you fine us, you send us to prison, you take us as prisoners to another man's fields and make us pick his cotton worm. What can we do? And so there is no cotton worm." "And hasn't it saved your cotton this year?" "Assuredly, the praise to Allah." "Then won't you do all this picking next year without us coming to make you do it?" "No." "Why?" "Because that is the way Allah made us!"

The Annual Rainfall.

According to an estimate by Sir John Murray, the total annual rainfall upon all the land of the globe amounts to 29,347.4 cubic miles and of this quantity 6,524 cubic miles drains off through rivers to the sea. A cubic mile of river water weighs approximately 4,205,670,000 tons and carries in solution on the average about 420,000 tons of foreign matter. In all, about 2,735,000,000 tons of solid substances are thus carried annually to the ocean.—United States Geological Survey.

THE SIMPLE LIFE.

Some of the Rewards That Come to Those Who Follow It.

I am bound to praise the simple life because I have lived it and found it good. . . . I love a small house, plain clothes, simple living. Many persons know the luxury of a skin bath—a plunge in the pool or the wave, unhampered by clothing. That is the simple life—direct and immediate contact with things, life with the false wrappings torn away—the fine house, the fine equipage, the expensive habits all cut off. How free one feels, how good the elements taste, how close one gets to them, how they fit one's body and soul! To see the fire that warms you or, better yet, to cut the wood that feeds the fire that warms you; to see the spring where the water bubbles up that slakes your thirst and to dip your pail into it; to see the beams that are the stay of your four walls and the timbers that uphold the roof that shelters you; to be in direct and personal contact with the sources of your material life; to want no extras, no shields; to find the air and the water exhilarating; to be refreshed by a morning walk or an evening saunter; to find a quest of wild berries more satisfying than a gift of tropic fruit; to be thrilled by the stars at night; to be elated over a bird's nest—these are some rewards of the simple life.—John Burroughs, Quoted in "Our John Burroughs," by Clara Barrus.

CARRYING AN UMBRELLA.

Don't Hold It Before Your Face in a Crowded Street.

"There are a great many persons injured on windy, rainy nights because they hold their umbrellas down in order to protect their faces from the driving rain," explained an ambulance surgeon. "In their desire to protect themselves from the rain they place themselves in grave danger of being struck and run over by surface cars, automobiles and other vehicles."

"If you wish proof of my assertion just stand in a doorway some night where you are protected from the rain and where you are in a position to see an expanse of thoroughfare which all kinds of vehicles use. You will be surprised at the large number of persons you will notice crossing the thoroughfare with their umbrellas held down so far that it is impossible for them to see anything approaching. They seem oblivious of danger, and a spectator would suppose from their actions that there was not the remotest chance of an accident occurring."

"It is a fact that many pedestrians are injured on windy, rainy nights. With their umbrellas pulled down so that it is impossible to see ahead or to the sides, the pedestrians walk in front of vehicles and are knocked down and injured before they realize what has happened."—New York Sun.

Foiled.

Billy Miller says a friend of his has been trying for two months to sell his automobile.

"But he couldn't," reports the veracious Mr. Miller. "He cut the price down to almost nothing and didn't get a bite. So the other day he got desperate and put this advertisement in the paper."

"Two cars for sale. One is a 1913 site for house. The other is a 1914 Mail place the car. Have been trying to sell. The first man to that car after 6 o'clock tomorrow morning may have it."

"And what happened?" you ask Mr. Miller.

"Well," says the young man, "my friend woke up early the next morning and looked out, and there in the field were four other cars."—Herbert Corey in New York Globe.

The Thieving Ear of Corn.

Twelve ears of corn will plant an acre. If one of the planted ears happens to be "no good" there is a twelfth of an acre missing. An acre of corn may be worth $30 to $40, so to discover a thieving ear is worth from $2.50 to $3.50. One can pick out the ears of poor germination at slight cost if he will test his corn before he becomes rushed with spring work. And while about it reject the ears that, although germinating, do not send up strong, vigorous stalks. Lusty, vigorous young things grow surest into profit, whether they be pigs, lambs, colts or cornstalks.—Breeder's Gazette.

A Canal Begun by Nero.

The ship canal across the isthmus of Corinth, which was completed in 1893, was the finish of a scheme dating back to 600 B. C., when Pericles employed Egyptian engineers to survey the isthmus. Nero actually began work along the site of the present canal, but at his death this was abandoned, and men continued to weigh up the idea for another eighteen centuries.—London Chronicle.

Keep Faith With Yourself.

Success in life means keeping one's faith with oneself and with one's friends. It means being content to travel along the path of "rheumatism" in spite of the fact that worldly good and ease do not lie along that path. Most of all it means "to be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and to spend a little less," and to take joy in the world and to spread happiness and joy to all near you.

ASHOKAN AWARDS.

Motion to Confirm and Objection to Confirming in Court.

A number of business damage awards to Ashokan claimants were confirmed by Judge Hasbrouck at Saturday's special term, of the supreme court.

The first award taken up was, that made by Commission No. 3 for $5,000 to Dr. J. D. W. Dumond of West Shokan. Confirmation was opposed by William McM. Speer, special counsel for the city, who raised the question whether the city was entitled to the benefit of Dr. Dumond taking over the former patients of Dr. Burton B. Bloom, who had removed from the Ashokan region. Judge Hasbrouck said he had held with the city on that proposition before, but the court of appeals in its decision in the Bishop case had held otherwise. Mr. Speer said this question was raised squarely in the Dumond case and the circumstances were different than in the Bishop case, because in the latter case the Bishops had moved away and engaged in other occupations, while Dr. Dumond had remained in that vicinity and continued in the same profession.

Milton O. Auchmoody, on behalf of Dr. Dumond, said that on the first trial Dr. Dumond had been awarded $6,490 by Commission No. 1, which award had been set aside. The second trial, before Commission No. 3, had resulted in an award of $5,000. It did not appear that Dr. Dumond had taken over Dr. Bloom's patients, but on the contrary his practice was now so scattered that he was required to work both night and day in order to save half as much as he formerly saved.

Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision.

Corporation Counsel Brinnier, as attorney for Mrs. Carrie A. Burhans, objected to confirmation of the report of Commission No. 3, dismissing the claim of Mrs. Burhans. The commission reported that she was not the owner of an established business, and at the request of Mr. Brinnier handed down a memorandum stating the reason for dismissal. This memorandum stated that the claim was decided on the authority of the Bishop case, as decided by the appellate division, and Mr. Brinnier urged that the decision of the appellate division had been reversed by the court of appeals.

Mr. Speer said he had opposed an award on the authority of a case arising under the Massachusetts water supply act which held that where members of a family or relatives were the only boarders, the person with whom they lived could not be held to conduct a boarding business.

Judge Hasbrouck reserved decision.

The award made by Commission No. 2 to Dr. Burton B. Bloom and the same commission's awards to John B. Hannay, Frederick Hales and Edith Terwilliger, were moved for confirmation by Charles W. Walton, who also moved for taxable costs in the Bloom case. The motion was granted and the costs allowed. The award made by the same commission to Mendelsohn B. Shultis was also moved for confirmation by Milton O. Auchmoody, his counsel, and was granted.

SUES FOR SMOKE DAMAGE.

Frank W. Kettner Asks $17,500 for Damage to His Farm.

A suit for $17,500 damages has been brought by Frank W. Kettner who resides near Hudson, against the Knickerbocker Portland Cement Company, which operates a large cement mill near his farm. The damages arise from a smoke nuisance, and Mr. Kettner claims the damages have been sustained by the farm itself, by the fruit and other trees and that the house has been rendered unsafe for habitation by reason of the noxious gases emanating from the company's chimneys. A motion for a bill of particulars was made on behalf of the cement company before Judge Hasbrouck at Saturday's special term of the supreme court, counsel for the company desiring information as to the nature of the damages, the number and location of the trees damaged, the quantity of fruit destroyed, and the nature and character of the gases. Counsel for Mr. Kettner claimed to be unable to give part of the information requested except in a general way, and in regard to the number and location of the trees and shrubbery, said that it was impossible to remove them, and they were in the same location they had been.

Judge Hasbrouck said experience in the condemnation cases had taught that one man would see a tree in a locality where another man would not see it; that one witness would swear a bush was in a certain place and another witness would swear there was no such bush on the place. For this reason, and for the information of the court when the case came to trial, this information should be given, and he granted all the requests except as to the character of the gases emanating from the plant, which would require chemical analysis. In proving damages it was sufficient to show that there were gases.

On a motion to frame the questions to be submitted to the jury counsel were unable to agree and Judge Hasbrouck said he would examine the papers and frame the questions himself.

Switched the Beverage.
Two old Scotch fishermen, having imbibed overmuch, were on their way home, and overcome with a great desire to sleep, accordingly they stretched themselves on the warm beach sands and were soon slumbering heavily. The tide crept in, awakening the one nearest the water as a wave dashed a quantity of the salty liquid into his mouth. Half asleep, he started to arise, saying: "It's time we was awa' out! this house. They're changin' the drink on us."

Woman's World

Rosalie Jones, the Suffragist's Little General.

MISS ROSALIE JONES.

The great suffrage parade in Washington can have among its ranks of distinguished and interesting women none who has made a greater impression on the public than Miss Rosalie Jones of New York. General Rosalie's famous hike to Washington, in which she and her associates displayed pluck and endurance that won the reluctant admiration of even the most determined of the antisuffragists, will not soon be forgotten. With her little army she has made the march from New York to Albany twice, while the march from New York to Washington was made once.

The novel thing about Miss Jones' enthusiasm for woman's suffrage is that her mother is an equally well known and ardent antisuffragist. If she cared for society Miss Jones might be a leader in the New York and Newport smart set, for her family is both wealthy and distinguished. Miss Jones, however, has been quoted as saying that fashionable society bores her. The family has a town house in New York, but since the death of her father, which occurred recently, she spends most of her time with her mother at their country place on Long Island.

Personally Miss Jones is a versatile and talented young woman. She admits having several hobbies. One of them is the collection of book plates. She is an artist of some skill and a clever amateur bookbinder. Fond of books, history is of especial interest to her.

In the fall, when the New York legislature, which is to vote for the suffrage amendment in 1915, is to be elected, Miss Jones expects to again take an active part in suffrage work, working for the election of candidates favorable to the cause.

WINDOW BOXES.

Timely and Attractive Finishes to Windows and Porches.

Flower boxes make attractive additions to the decoration of porches, windows, arbors, etc. The demand for these has brought about a great variety.

Study any one type of these numerous flower boxes and it will be found to be thoroughly practical and within the reach of the modest pocketbook. A few sturdy geranium plants for the upright bloomers and the hardy, much enduring variegated vincas, the Ivy leaved geranium or trailing pelargonium and glossy green periwinkles and ivies may form the nucleus of the simplest or the most elaborate flower box.

Other bloomers and trailers may be added as expert knowledge of requirements and indifference to cost may allow, but for general use, under unfavorable conditions, there are few plants more acceptable than the hardy varieties mentioned for continuing year after year and serving for inside decoration when freezing weather checks their growth and beauty out of doors.

Consider the fact that fine varieties of sturdy, free blooming geraniums and any of the different varieties of trailers mentioned may be bought for 10 cents each or probably less by the dozen and that very few will be required to fill a long box, as they all grow rapidly in rich soil and will soon begin to crowd their space.

Then consider the fact that any of these plants may be propagated with amazing rapidity by simply nipping off the overgrowth of geranium branches, and the trailers that are reaching far beyond their prescribed limits and tucking them beneath the old plants in the moist, rich soil.

As the slips and cuttings are propagated in the closely crowded boxes other boxes may be made ready to receive them when well rooted and, with one or two of the large plants that are beginning to crowd, may give the newly started box the appearance of having been long established.

Safety Shoe Lace Knots.

You need never fall downstairs over a trailing shoe lace if you use "Egyptian" knots. Make a tie and begin the bow in the ordinary way, but before you pull down the loops to tighten the finished knot take one loop and one end and pass them through the opening between the flat tie and the not yet tightened bow. Then draw the loops out and the bow will close down securely.

To a Higher Court.

"So you refuse me?" said the prosperous young lawyer. "Most emphatically," replied the fair maid. "Very well, I shall take an appeal to your mother. She knows that I am a lucrative practise."—Chicago Record-Herald.

PATHOLOGIST FOR COUNTY SELECTED

Dr. Raymond Sanderson of Canandaigua has been selected by the joint committee of the board of supervisors and the Ulster County Medical Society for the position of county pathologist, and it is expected that his appointment will be made by the board of supervisors when it meets during this spring.

Dr. Sanderson is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and has had large experience in pathological laboratory work during the past eight years. For more than a year he has been in charge of the Ontario County Pathological Laboratory at Canandaigua, and that laboratory is one of the most successful county pathological laboratories in the state.

The committee during the winter negotiated with Dr. Oliver Kinsey, Jr., of Washington, to come to Kingston as county pathologist, but before arrangements could be completed Dr. Kinsey, in a fit of despondency, committed suicide in a hotel at Washington, D. C.

Dr. Sanderson is known personally to all the members of the joint committee, who met him at the Ontario County Laboratory at the time they made an investigation of the county pathological laboratories last winter.

MILTON.

Milton, May 4.—Mrs. Norman Fisher died on Friday last of paralysis. She was at church the Sunday previous seemingly in her usual health, but was stricken down on that evening. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Joseph W. Chasey, from her late home, a mile north of Milton village. Mrs. Fisher is survived by her husband, one daughter and four sons, who have the sympathy of our people in this, their loss of a faithful and loving wife and mother. Interment at Highland.

Mrs. Edward Kaley was one of the soloists in a song recital given at Vassar Institute, Poughkeepsie, on Tuesday evening, given by the vocal class of which she is a member.

Miss Josephine L. Northrup is to spend this week end and Sunday with her parents, Justice and Mrs. Northrup. She is expected to preside at the pipe organ in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Oliver Scott is quite comfortable and about the house at this writing.

Chris. Miller has left the employ of J. J. Kaley and it is rumored that he may take the stage route.

Mrs. Turner and sister, Miss Minnie Mackey, of Poughkeepsie, are expected to visit their mother, Mrs. Irving Mackey, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Covert of New York city visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Woolsey, on Sunday last.

Miss D. Shorter was in Milton on Saturday. She is visiting a home in Poughkeepsie.

Miss W. Weston, recently.

Mrs. Fred Martin entertained her sister, Miss Amanda Coutant, of Poughkeepsie recently.

We hear that Mrs. Catherine Homan, who was operated on at St. Luke's Hospital, is improving.

Mrs. William Ansell of Westlake, and Mrs. Cattell of Providence, R. I., have been visiting their mother, Mrs. William Brewster.

J. B. Ball is the owner of a new Reo, bought of George Hildebrand, the agent for that car.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Tabor on the 29th inst. William H. Townsend's crate factory is again working.

With the loss of oranges it is to be hoped that other fruit may be such that with conditions surrounding the fruit business a very good price may be realized.

Matthew McManus, of Orangeburg, visited friends here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Miller of Poughkeepsie visited her mother, Mrs. Rice on Sunday.

Mrs. Sara Woolsey of Elm Grove, N. Y., who has been spending the winter in California, has returned home.

Vincent Orlando is critically ill.

BIG INDIAN.

Big Indian, May 4.—Mrs. M. Short called on friends at the Whipple House Tuesday.

Floyd Bennett spent a few days with relatives at Olivera last week. The heading factory is running night and day and doing a rushing business.

Elizabeth Satterlee called on friends at the Atwood House on Wednesday.

Ira Kane will live in the house vacated by Addison Haynes. Mr. Haynes has moved his family to Claryville.

Willard Pomeroy is employed by Eugene Thompson working at blacksmithing.

No school Thursday and Friday as our school teacher, Miss Garrison, attended the teachers' conference at Pine Hill.

Daniel Whipple had the misfortune to lose his only cow last week. Roland Dutcher, who has been spending some time in Albany, has returned home.

Fred Mackey is employed at High Mount doing carpenter work.

Miss Violet Surplus visited her friend Miss Victorine Bisset, on Thursday.

Uriah Gulnic has moved to Shandaken.

Carl Baby Contest.

Owing to the fact that the baby weighing contest at the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Company store on North Front street attracted so much favorable attention, it has been decided to continue it another week. Prizes of $5 each will be awarded to the heaviest and lightest baby and $1 prizes to the second heaviest and lightest baby. Already over thirty entries have been received. Entries can be made at the infant ware department of the store. Every visitor to that department is presented with a free pattern.

FRANCE'S WIVES.

One Had Cork Leg and the Other Sues him.

A hearing was had Saturday before Judge Hasbrouck at the court house in the case of Agnes E. France, by Augusto Koskie, her guardian ad litem, against Charles E. France, formerly of this city. The action is for a separation on the ground of abandonment and cruel and inhuman treatment, and the matter came up on motions to change the place of trial from Ulster county to New York county, and also for alimony and counsel fee. Brinnier & Canfield appeared for the wife and a New York attorney appeared for the husband.

During the argument it developed that the wife was formerly stenographer for Mr. France in this city. They were married last August and later in the fall Mr. France took her to New York to live with the relatives of his first wife. In speaking of the first wife, Corporation Counsel Brinnier, who appeared on behalf of the present Mrs. France to oppose the motion for changing the place of trial of the action, said the present Mrs. France was a little girl—a mere infant, and the first Mrs. France had lost a leg in an accident in New York city and was now walking with a cork leg.

Judge Hasbrouck inquired whether the little girl knew about the first Mrs. France's cork leg at the time of her marriage to France.

On the motion for alimony and counsel fee, France's counsel stated that he was in the real estate business, where his income was dependent on the number of sales he made, and that his business was slow. Mrs. France claims her husband earns at least $25 a week.

Decision was reserved on both motions.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

9747.—A Good Model.—Ladies' Apron With Panel Front.

This design has two special good points, i. e., the deep convenient pockets and the panel front, which is cut high over the bust, and this affords good protection. The apron is easy to make and will give satisfaction. Gingham, lawn or cambric, may be used for its development. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, medium and large. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 27 inch material for the medium size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up to date 1914 Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns; also a concise and comprehensive article on dress-making, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

TABASCO HEIGHTS.

Tabasco Heights, May 4.—There will be an entertainment and ice cream party held at the Tabasco school house on Thursday, May 7. If stormy, next fair evening. Every lady come and hear a fine entertainment which our teacher, Miss Simpson, is drilling the children for.

Miss Maude Gorsline is spending some time with friends out of town.

Miss Carrie Wynkoop is spending a week with her sister at Acorn Hill.

Everybody is smiling over the news of the R. F. D. mail which will go through this place June 1.

Mrs. Margaret Terwilliger spent from Friday last until Wednesday with her niece, Mrs. Agnes Quick, at Mombaccus.

The Smith brothers were through this place last week sawing fire wood for Joe Wynkoop, Asa Wynkoop, L. Terwilliger, D. Van Wagner, M. Rathberg and Henry Berger. The boys make the gasoline engine saw hum.

Those who were present every day the past month at school were Lester Wynkoop, William Hinkley, Harry Gray, Jerry Decker, Nelson Krom, William Embree, Sylvester Wells, Esther Wynkoop, Edna Gray, Bertha Embree, Cora Terwilliger and Cella Hinkley. Our school is progressing finely under the management of Miss Simpson. All the scholars are wishing for her return another year.

Don't forget school meeting Tuesday evening, May 5.

Joe Wynkoop and a gang of men are working the highway in this place.

Ira Bell is shaving hoops for Asa Wynkoop.

Russell Gray has purchased a horse of D. Van Etten.

Miss Catherine Terwilliger of Rochester Center is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Terwilliger, in this place.

REO THE FIFTH A Super Car, $1,175 Equipped, f. o. b. Lansing

No other car builder insists on tests as extreme as does R. E. Olds. and the requirement is that all important parts shall come through almost new.

One whole building in the Reo plant is devoted to tests and inspection.

Here is a 35-horsepower car, yet every driving part is tested for 50-horsepower requirements. In every part which meets a strain there are very large margins of safety.

Gears are tested in a 50-ton crushing machine. Springs are tested for 100,000 vibrations. Engines get five long and radical tests, then are taken apart and inspected.

Steel is twice analyzed. Every part and device must prove itself under heavy over-test. And six weeks are spent on each car.

Test cars are run for 10,000 miles to prove out the strength and endurance. They are run night and day on rough roads. Then the tested car is taken apart.

It Endures

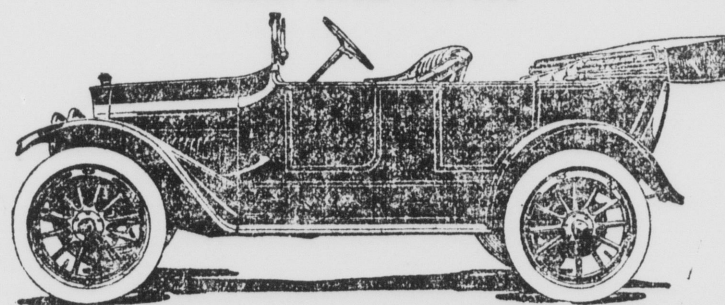

The result is a car that stays new. It saves trouble, upkeep and repairs. In the years to come you will find that it pays to own a super-car. Ask any of the tens of thousands who are driving Olds-built cars.

A Lower Price

This year brings a lower price—$220 less than last year with electric starter. It brings the new streamline body, making a beautiful car. It brings dimming searchlights, over-size tires, one-rod control, and many new ideas in equipment.

You will find here the best-built car and the handsomest car ever sold at a modest price. It is so great a value that the spring demand is always twice the factory output.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BUILDINGS UPON COUNTY PROPERTY.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County, passed on the 15th day of April, 1914, the undersigned will sell at public auction on the 5th day of May, 1914, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the front door of the Court House in the City of Kingston, New York, the following described property and buildings:

All frame buildings or other frame structures situate on the property now owned by the County of Ulster, located on John and Crown streets, in the City of Kingston, and known as the "Charles M. Romeyn" property and the "Maben property."

The sale to be made subject to the following conditions: The said buildings will be sold to the highest bidder who shall at the time of the sale pay the purchase price thereof and enter into a contract with the County of Ulster to remove all the buildings above described within thirty days from the date of the sale, and within sixty days from the date of the sale to fill in all cellars or other excavations now existing on said property with suitable materials such as ashes or dirt (no refuse, tin cans, garbage, lumber or decomposable matter to be used) and grade the said property to a level with the present Court House property; all foundation walls to be lowered to a depth of three feet below the grade line; and such filling and grading is to be approved by the County Auditors.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE LATEST PROJECT

Plans are under way to organize a twilight baseball league at the Y. M. C. A. for business men, seniors and employed boys during the summer months. Games will be played on Tuesday and Friday evenings. The grounds have not been decided upon as yet but arrangements are under way to secure them. All of the members of the association who would care to play in the league are expected to leave their names with Physical Director A. H. Christian at the association. A similar league was held several years ago and was a big success as it gave those who worked during the day a chance to play the national game in the evening.

Plans are also under way to organize a high school baseball league which will play on Friday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock. All high school students who care to play should leave their names with the physical director.

The question of starting a grammar school baseball league will be taken up with Superintendent Michael later in the week. Y. M. C. A. leagues and the Sunday school baseball league which will be organized on Saturday at the Y. M. C. A. Every one who cares about playing the national game will be given ample opportunity of doing so this summer in Kingston.

DON'T TRADE IN FLY RID-DEN STORE.

REALIZING the dangers of the house fly, we must cease to trade with dealers who permit flies to swarm in our dairies, restaurants, markets and bakeries. By withdrawing patronage from the careless dealer we can put our fly campaign on a dollar and cent basis. This will line up all the dealers in foodstuffs on the defensive. They will, in turn, demand that all places where flies may breed in their neighborhood be cleaned up. Then we will have not only a flyless but a really clean city.

An Advertising Specialist.

William P. Rose, who has been advertising manager of the Erie Herald of Erie, Pa., has resigned that position to become promotion manager of the Washington Post of Washington, D. C., and will begin his new duties on Wednesday. Mr. Rose spent Sunday and today in town as the guest of his father, A. D. Rose, of St. James street. Mr. Rose has had considerable newspaper advertising experience, having been formerly engaged in newspaper and magazine advertising work in New York city. His first advertising experience was on the Academy News, when it was published by students of Kingston Academy, and later while at Ithaca, Mr. Rose had charge of the advertising department of one of the publications issued by Cornell University, where he was a student.

COUNTY FARM AGENT AT WORK

Since the engagement of Wallace H. Hook as county agent the Ulster County Farm Bureau is being extended throughout the county. Mr. Hook has made a number of addresses before the different granges in the county including Clintondale, Marlborough, New Paltz and Stone Ridge and on Thursday he addressed a meeting of teachers at Pine Hill. A number of requests have already been received from the farmers asking him to come out and look over their farms. Saturday has been set aside for office work and Mr. Hook may be seen at his office located over the millinery department in the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Company store on that day from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 4 p. m. Tuesday evening he will address the Dutch Arms at New Paltz. Mr. Hook's telephone calls are as follows: Home 713 W and office 1646. Every farmer in the county should take advantage of his services and if they meet with farm problems that they do not understand they should communicate with him and he will be glad to do what he can to enlighten them.

Mr. Miller is Promoted.

Guy K. Miller, formerly of this city, who has been connected with the firm of S. B. Thing & Company for the past fourteen years and for the past seven years has been manager of that company's shoe store at Bridgeport, Conn., has been promoted to the position of manager of the company's store at Troy, N. Y., and will begin his new duties there Tuesday. The Troy store is the largest and most important of the company's chain of eleven stores in the east. Mr. Miller is a son of William B. Miller, formerly of this city, and first became connected with the Thing Shoe Company in the Kingston store. He was later promoted to store manager at Middletown, N. Y., and seven years ago was promoted to the position of manager of the Bridgeport, Conn., store, where he built up a large trade. Mr. Miller has many friends in this city and at Middletown, who will be glad to learn of his advancement.

Swimming Classes at Y. M. C. A.

Starting on Wednesday a series of swimming classes for beginners only will be organized at the Y. M. C. A. in charge of Physical Director A. H. Christian for members of the association. The schedule of classes has been arranged and subject to slight change is as follows: Wednesday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock the juniors, including members of student B and C classes; Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8 the high school students and employed boys; Monday evenings from 8 to 9 the seniors and business men. The swimming lessons will be given in the big tank and are held for the purpose of having all members of the association able to swim. Every member of the association unable to swim should take advantage of the lessons.

Says He's Not at Fault.

Jonah Marshall was arraigned this morning before Recorder Grogan on the charge of non-support, his wife having made the complaint. Marshall claimed he was not at fault because he went away but agreed to return to his home and contribute to the support of his family and the matter was adjourned for one week.

Only Seeking a Barber.

James Wilson was arrested by Policeman James J. Murphy for being disorderly downtown. He said he had tried to find a barber shop and when he inquired of two young fellows they called him a vile name and assaulted him. He only acted in self defense. The recorder discharged Wilson.

Her Congratulations.

An Evanston lady was telling the other day about a rather lugubrious aunt who seemed to see everything through blue spectacles. Her greatest pleasure in life was in attending funerals, and in case of a friend's illness she would console the patient with gloomy forebodings and with tales of others who had met untimely deaths through similar afflictions. Her sister, who, though in good health, was by no means young, was celebrating her birthday, and it fell to the melancholy one to send congratulations.

"My dearest sister," she wrote, "you have passed another milestone in life's journey. Do you realize that you are a year nearer the grave? I wish you many happy returns of the day."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Strained.

They were discussing Bessie's wedding.

"Usually it is the bridegroom who is nervous, while the bride is self possessed," commented one of the bridesmaids, "but Bessie's voice sounded as though she were frightened. It sounded rather strained."

"Oh, there's a reason for that," explained one of the ushers. "You see, she was talking through her veil!"—Lippincott's.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 4.—Missouri Pacific was the most prominent feature at the opening of the stock market today, opening at 19 1/2 against 19 3/4 at the close on Saturday. Within 15 minutes the stock had crossed 20, selling at 20 1/4 and reflecting a better demand than has been in evidence on the present movement. The stock seemed to be in demand from some new source which regarded with optimism the financial outlook of the line. The general list had an irregular appearance following a similar lead set in London, but the undertone was steady. Among the declines in the initial trading were Amalgamated Copper, 1/4; American Can, 1/4; Republic Iron and Steel, 1/4; New York, New Haven & Hartford, 1/4; American Smelting and Refining, 1/4; General Electric, 1/4; Erie, 1/4; Central Leather, 1/4 and B. & O., 1/4. Amalgamated Copper soon recovered and at the end of 30 minutes had scored a net advance. Great Northern Pfd. gained fractionally after opening good. Fractional gains were sustained in U. S. Steel Common, Reading, Ray Consolidated Copper and Penna. The Curb was steady. Americans in London were confused. There was profit taking in Canadian Pacific.

2:30 p. m.—Strength in Union Pacific was one of the features of the trading in the last hour. This stock sold around 15 1/2 for a net gain of 3/4 on the day. Canadian Pacific closed at 17 1/2. New Haven held at 70 and Lehigh Valley maintained its advance. The tone was firm.

The New York stock market closed strong. Governments unchanged; other bonds steady.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Miss Olivia Parish entertained twenty of her little friends on her eighth birthday Saturday afternoon from 2 until 6. Her Grandfather Parish presented her with a Kroege piano.

Clinton Chapter, No. 445, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a card party at Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening. Play will commence at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained of members or at the door.

Clinton Chapter, No. 445, O. E. S., will hold a card party in Masonic Hall on Wall street on Tuesday evening. There will be no regular lodge meeting that evening which enables the ladies to have the party that evening.

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season will be given on Thursday evening in Burgevin's Hall by Christopher Flanagan and Leroy Lounsbury. The dancers will be gowned in the famous Yama Yama costumes.

The degree staff of Atharhaeton Rebekah Lodge, No. 357, I. O. O. F., will give an entertainment in Pythian Hall corner of Wall and John streets, on Friday evening, May 15. The play "Uncle Ephraim" will be given. Dancing will follow.

Barnhart-Saunders.

Worthington C. Barnhart of Rennselaer, N. Y., and Miss Grace M. Saunders of East Kingston were married at the parsonage of the Albany Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. A. S. Cole. After a bridal tour they will reside in Rennselaer.

Miss Reger delightfully entertained a number of friends at the home of Miss Sarah Reynolds on Albany avenue on Saturday afternoon. Miss Lola Marsh, formerly of Kingston, now of New York city, addressed the ladies on the subject of "The Dowager Empress of China," and her talk was considered one of the ablest, most finished and interesting that those present had been privileged to listen to. Miss Marsh has for the past year been giving talks about some twenty of the great women of history, presenting their characters in such rounded, many-sided lights as to make the talks particularly valuable as well as entertaining. At the close of the talk, refreshments were served.

Special Lowell Club Meeting.

The Lowell Club will hold a special meeting, tomorrow, May 5, at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. N. Fessenden on Washington avenue.

Hogan-McGuire.

Miss Ella McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McGuire of Marlborough, and James Hogan of Newburgh were married on Sunday, April 26, in St. Patrick's Church, Newburgh, by the Rev. Thomas Pendergast.

Company M's Dance.

The committee on soliciting subscriptions for the regimental benefit dance have met with great success, the people being more than generous, taking from one to ten tickets, which assures Captain Meagher that the dance this evening will be a huge success. The following program of music will be rendered by Martha Lay.

Mr. MacDonald was for many years caretaker at the Benedictine Sanitarium. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church and is survived by his widow and six children. Mrs. James Lytle of New York city, Mrs. William Dolan, the Misses Cathryn, Dorothea and Francis MacDonald and one son, Patrick, all of this city. Funeral from the house at 8:30

ULSTER WON GAME AT MIDDLETOWN

Fine pitching by Culloton and splendid support by his teammates gave Ulster the game with Middletown high school Saturday. Although Middletown clouted the ball five times, still Ulster bumped their twirlers for fifteen good, clean hits, which came in bunches, thus making score 3 to 3. Culloton struck eleven and passed two batsmen. Infield played the game of their making several spectacular plays. Middletown's three runs not earned. They came in the 4th inning and were the result of Ulster's error of Kramer's fast with two on the bases. The ball was hit by Webster and the three men. Ulster ran the bases well as the other games played this year. Williger, Downer, Webster and Culloton were the best hitters while Downer starred in the field. The score:

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

John E. Mahar is spending the week at Newark, N. J.

Miss Rachel Garrison of Wallkill is visiting her niece Mrs. C. L. Palmer.

Leo V. Grogan has returned from New York city where he underwent surgical treatment.

Mrs. William S. Eltinge who underwent an operation at the Kingston City Hospital, is rapidly recovering.

Michael I. Dunne of this city, who is engaged on a plumbing contract in Amsterdam, is spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Arno Juehne and little daughter Eleanor of Brooklyn are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dwyer of Rogers street.

James D. McIntyre of Brooklyn, formerly of this city, has secured a position with the Grand Union Tea Company on its Saugerties route.

Ex-Fire Chief Fred Bieber and son, Fred Bieber, Jr., of Poughkeepsie, secretary of the H. V. F. A., were in town Sunday as guests of Charles H. Parsells, president of the H. V. F. A., and Frank P. Quigley.

Sidney A. Hughes of Richmond, Va., is spending a few days in town. Mr. Hughes is engaged in real estate development business in Richmond, being a member of the firm of Green, Hughes & Green, one of his partners being William S. Green, formerly of this city.

Ira T. B. Smith, editor of the Atlantic County Record, published at May's Landing, N. J., was a visitor in Kingston over Sunday. Mr. Smith is also a freeholder representative in the county board of that south Jersey village, where he is taking an active part in Republican politics. He is a son of the late John Ten Broeck Smith, who died there recently, and who was a native of Kingston, and passed the early years of his life on the old Ten Broeck farm on the Hudson in South Flatbush. The young editor has some progressive notions in the makeup the country newspapers which he is trying to carry out in his weekly paper.

Narrowness.

Bannon Company Wins.

Judge Hasbrouck has handed down a decision in the case of the L. F. Bannon Plumbing, Heating & Contracting Company against the City of Kingston, which was recently argued before him on appeal from a judgment of the city court of this city in favor of the Bannon Company for $524.45, with interest from October 1, 1911. The action was brought to recover a balance for extra work for the construction of the East Chester street sewer. Surrogate Gill was attorney for the Bannon Company and the appeal on behalf of the city was argued by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier.

Cats and Man.

No subject that Dr. Weir Mitchell studied, either scientific or social, is more curious than the one he described in a little known paper entitled "Of Allurophobia and the Power to Be Conscious of the Cat as Near, When Unseen and Unheard." In this paper Dr. Mitchell declares that there are persons who have been able to distinguish the presence of a cat by its smell, but cannot any longer do so and yet who retain ability to detect unseen cats.

"It is likely," he says, "that the cat emanations may affect the nervous system through the nasal membrane, although unrecognized as odors. Why these emanations should, if plainly perceived as due to cats, cause certain symptoms in those who dread cats is readily understood.

"The ultimate cause of unreasonable terror of cats I cannot explain."—Century.

Wait Long for Burial.

Close by Canton, China, is the hill called Queen of Heaven mountain, on the lower slopes of which is the famous City of the Dead. There bodies wait in their coffins sometimes several years before the priests are able to determine an auspicious day for interment.

A CURIOUS WARNING.

It Was a Clever Ruse and Thoroughly Scared the Burglars.

For a time during the eighteenth century in England there was a lull in the robbery industry owing to an odd incident. Shortly after the execution of an English burglar named Elliston a curious communication purporting to have been written by him was put into circulation.

"Now, as I am a dying man," it ran, "I have done something which may be of good use to the public. I have left with an honest man—the only honest man I was ever acquainted with—the names of all my wicked brethren, the places of their abode, with a short account of the chief crimes they have committed. In many of which I have been the accomplice and heard the rest from their own mouths. I have likewise set down the names of those we call our setters, of the houses we frequent and all of those who receive and buy our stolen goods. I have solemnly charged this honest man and have received his promise upon oath that whenever he hears of any rogue to be tried for robbery or housebreaking he will look into his list and if he finds there the name of the thief concerned to send the whole paper to the government. Of this I here give my companions fair and public warning and hope they will take it."

It is said the hint was so effectual that for a long time pickpockets and burglars in that part of England went into panic stricken retirement. And, this being so, it is just as well they did not know that the letter was a clever forgery, the work of that prince of wits and humorists, Dean Swift.

Words Are as Cheap as Ever.

An English economist announces that a world-wide decline in the price of commodities has begun, and that probably it will be more pronounced at the end of the year.

The Shrewd Advertiser.

The thoughtful man thinks ahead. The prudent man profits by his ability to forecast the future as well as to scrutinize the present. One of the most prominent advertisers in the country says he makes it a rule to increase his advertising appropriation whenever business slackens and he doubles and trebles it in times of severe business depression. This is his logical conclusion: "The new customers that I get when times are hard I always keep when times become good. They come to me largely from those who lose them because they fail to continue their publicity campaigns. A business depression in this country never lasts long and it is always seed time for me. The harvest follows when prosperity returns." It is a wise man who knows his own business better than the other man does.—Leslie's.

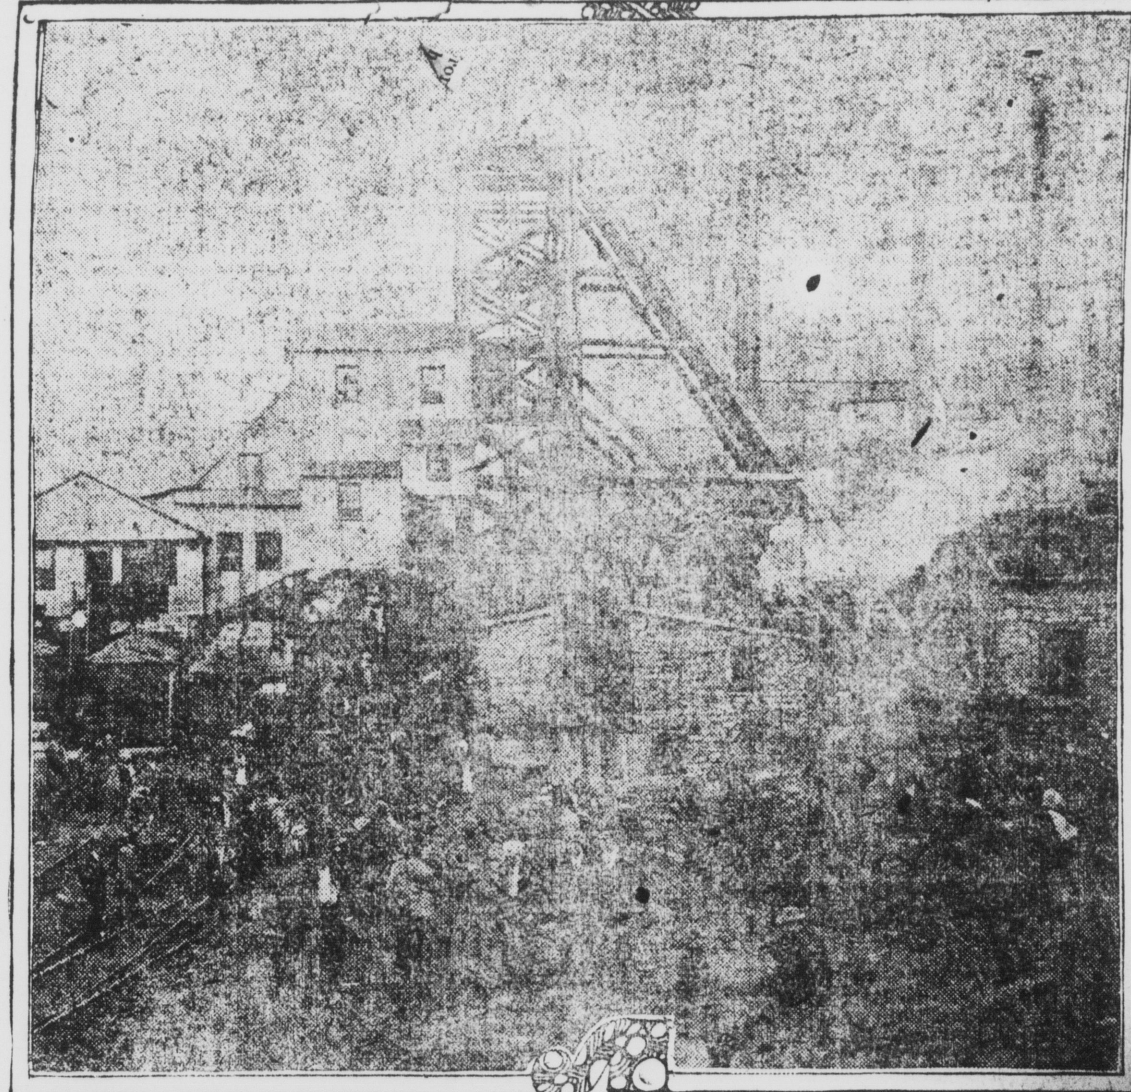

Weight of a Lion.

What does a lion weigh? Those who know the look of the king of beasts best and how small his little body really is will probably come farthest from the truth. About 300 to 350 pounds is a usual estimate, but a full grown lion will tip the scales at no less than 500 pounds. Five hundred and forty pounds is the record for an African lion. His bone is solid and heavy as ivory. The tiger runs the lion very close. A Bengal tiger killed by an English officer scaled 520 pounds. A tiger this size has, however, considerably more muscular strength than the biggest lion.

Hired His Newspaper.

Lady Taylor once took a friend to see the poet Tennyson and was rather coldly received. On Lady Taylor rallying him on his manner he said:

"Madam, I am a poor man, and as I can't afford to buy the Times I have it from the stationer. He charges me 2 cents for it, which entitles me to keep it an hour. Why will people select just that hour to come and call on me?"

MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTS REVIEW

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, May 4.—Gazing along the baseball horizon from this early May angle one comes to the conclusion that the Giants and Athletics are confronted with husky little jobs in their efforts to repeat their 1913 pennant winning stunts.

The pre-season dope made it look as if both clubs would have a comparatively easy time of it. But the dope was wrong. And it isn't the fault of the Athletics and Giants themselves. They are just as good as they were last year; perhaps a bit stronger in spots. The fault is with the sudden strength shown by the opposition.

The Yankees were a pie counter proposition for the Athletics last year. Whenever they needed a few games they engaged the Yankees in combat. They battled the Yankees on twenty-two occasions and won out in seventeen. The Athletics won sixteen out of the first seventeen games they played against the Yankees last year and clinched the pennant. After that they presented the Yankees with three or four games, as a sort of consolation prize.

But it's considerably different this year. The Yanks opened the season with the Athletics and surprised everybody by ripping off the first three games and plainly convinced everyone that if the Athletics figured on grabbing the pennant through Yankee conquests this year the Athletics wouldn't do any pennant grabbing.

The Athletics last year had the indian skin on the Senators, but it is quite unlikely that they'll duplicate their 1913 performance this year.
Last year the Athletics won fourteen of the twenty-two games played against Washington.

The Athletics last year broke even with the Chicago White Sox and took fifteen out of twenty-two games from the Tigers. Will they repeat?
Hardly. If the two western aggregations continue whizzing along at the speed at which they started the season, when the Tigers get going, aided and abetted by some good pitching and the mace work of Cobb and Crawford they are a mighty hard aggregation to head off. And they seem to be doing pretty well, thank you.

Similar conditions exist in the National League. Some of the clubs that were easy for the Giants last year are showing unexpected strength, and instead of being the means for the Giants to climb to a fourth straight pennant, they just now appear to be the means that will derive the Giants of that rare honor.
The Giants took fourteen out of twenty-two games from the Pirates last year. If the Smoke City persons continue at their present pace, the Giants will be lucky to break even.
They took fourteen out of twenty-two from the Phillies, fourteen out of twenty-two from the Dodgers, fourteen out of twenty-one from the Boston Braves and seventeen out of twenty-two from Garry Hermann's Reds. It's something of a cinch that they won't repeat these performances against these teams this year. And it's also something of a cinch, according to the present dope, that they won't grab off enough extra victories from the Cubs and Cardinals to offset their losses against these other teams.

The Dodgers have a better aggregation this year than last and ought to furnish trouble. The Phillies, despite the fact that they were "wrecked" seem to be able to beat up the Giants in a more brutal manner than they did last year with their machine inact.

The Reds are doing a little better than last year and Manager Herzog is quite hopeful—even boastful—when it comes to looking forward to scrapping with his old teammates.
And so, all in all, it would seem that the Giants and Phillies have some job ahead of them if they expect to breeze in under the tape again this year at the head of the field.

COME, HEAR THE VICTROLA!
There are mighty few men or women who do not experience a thrill of pleasure in the presence of good music. It lends a wholesome atmosphere and an air of cheerfulness to the home that makes life brighter for every member of the family.

There is a cheeriness and cheerfulness in the home which houses a VICTROLA not found where this instrument is missing.

Have YOU a VICTROLA?
We still have in stock a few slightly used Piano, which we offer at splendid bargain prices to the man or woman who buys now.

ago.

J. P. Van Valkenburgh, who has been confined to his house by illness, is able now to be out again.

Mrs. Charles A. Drimer of Halcottville visited relatives here on Friday.

Sue Against Ice Company.
Anselmo Calenti is suing the Foster Scott Ice Company for damages for injuries he sustained while working at one of the company's ice houses last winter, and on Saturday a motion for a bill of particulars was made to Judge Hasbrouck by District Attorney Cunningham, on behalf of the company's counsel.

A cake of ice slipped in going up the ice-run and struck Calenti, knocking him over. A pike-pole operated by another workman who was standing behind him pierced his hand. He claimed the company was negligent in not supplying "ice scratches" which would have prevented the cake of ice from slipping.
Judge Hasbrouck granted the motion.

Local Bowlers Lost.

Friday evening a team of bowlers from this city went to Poughkeepsie and played a match game with a picked team from the bridge city. The local bowlers were Frank Thompson,
Charles R. O'Connor, Ray Thompson,
Grover Webster, Jr., and William R.
Bennett. Walter Baisden also made the trip. The Bridge City team were Messrs. Wiggins, Mahoney, Jackson, Tongue and Darcy. The match was rolled on Alderman Darcy's alleys and the bridge city bowlers took the local men into camp, winning two out of the three games bowled. Following the match the local bowlers were royally entertained at a banquet at the Morgan House.

RED MONOGRAMS
OPEN THE SEASON

Defeat Swamp Angels of Poughkeepsie by Score of 21 to 7 at Opening Game in McVey's Field.

Under sunny skies and ideal weather conditions the baseball season hereabout was ushered in at McVey's field Sunday by the Red Monograms of this city and the much-talked-of "Swamp Angels" from Poughkeepsie. About 1,500 people saw the Monograms pull down to ignominious defeat one of the Bridge City's popular sporting organizations in a swift game that was not lacking in interest from start to finish. Had Bill McCabe been present he probably would have shed real tears over the vanishing reputation of his home town's team.
Figuratively speaking, Baker, Poughkeepsie's pitcher, was "knocked out of the box." He was supposed to have "something up his sleeve" that would deceive Kingston's best batsmen but the Monogram swatting artillery was prepared for such surprises, and what was to have been a wiping out of Kingston's baseball record turned out to be a Dutchess county "horror."

It was a swatfest. The Monograms binged, pounded, walloped, smashed, banged and crashed into the leather sphere with a vengeance that might be likened to American marines picking off Mexican "snipers" at Vera Cruz. Among the heavy hitters were Spalt with three two-baggers, Kuehn with two two-baggers, Long with one two-bagger, Robbins with a three base hit and McLean and "Kid" Moore with several splendid singles.

The score was 21 to 7 in favor of the local team. Out of the seven runs placed to the credit of the visitors only two were earned. The other five were given them by Spalt's liberality in "walking the Angels."

"Kid" Moore's two wretched errors at shortstop and Nolan's two muffs or long drives to left field. At intervals during the game, the visitors hit Spalt terrific wallops, but, aside from the errors mentioned he was superbly supported. Baker, on the firing line for Poughkeepsie, lacked support, both his in and outfielders becoming erratic and excited in their heroic efforts to wrest victory from the Monograms. Wild throwing to bases proved costly to them.
The "Swamp Angels" were accompanied to this city by a vast throng of Poughkeepsians whose energetic "rooting" proved unavailing. James McLean, last year's manager of the Wilbur club, acted as umpire and was fair and prompt in his decisions.

The Monograms were lined up as follows: Moore, ss; McLean, rf; Kuehn, cf; Robbins, lb; Nolan, if;
Long, 3b; Westfall, c; Glasser, 3b; Spalt, p. In the sixth inning Craig was substituted for Westfall.

The score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Red Monograms
1 4 0 3 3 2 4 0 0—21
Swamp Angels
0 0 1 0 6 1 1 2 2—7

In the game Saturday at Walden between the Red Monograms and the Walden club, the Monograms won by a score of 5 to 4. The Kingston players are high in their praises of the gentlemanly, courteous manner in which they were treated at Walden.

SAMSONVILLE.
Samsonville, May 4.—An entertainment consisting of a play, a dialogue and music, interspersed with music by the phonograph will be given on May 8. If stormy on Saturday evening, May 9, followed by refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and candy, bananas and peanuts, and a good time in general. An invitation is extended to all. Mildred Moore will be the dummy in the dressmaking establishment.

Joseph Moore of Krumville is employed by G. W. Moore setting out fruit trees and fixing the lawn.

Mrs. Daniel Every has gone from this place to live with her son at Kripplush.

Della Shurter is reported very ill at the home of her sister, Mrs.
Uriah Vankleek in Kingston.

Grant and Ray Smith of Hurley visited their mother, Mrs. Charles Smith, recently.

Kenneth Barley and sister were out riding on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. G. Moore and daughter, Mildred, were out calling on Thursday evening.

Mr. Vandemark, the grocery man, from The Vly, comes as far as Mr.
Moore's on Friday.

The teacher, Miss Empt, is away attending the teachers' conference at Pine Hill.

Mrs. J. H. Bevier has had an attack of erysipelas.

Lafayette Moore will not be at home this week on account of being one of the chosen orators to the prize contest at New Rochelle. We all hope Lafayette will win the prize.

We are glad to see the new house of Henry Winchell Jr., nearing completion, and hope to see a family living in it soon.
